GENEALOGY.

THE THROCKMORTON FAMILY.

Contributed by C. WICKLIFFE THROCKMORTON, New York.

[I have discovered why the will of Gabriel Throckmorton (dated January, 1626) did not mention the Manor of Ellington, and conveyed so little property. It seems that his father, Robert Throckmorton of Ellington, baptized October 1st, 1551, at Warboy's Church, did not die until January 12, 1633, thus surviving his son seven years, and the property passed direct from him to his grandson, Robert Throckmorton, who died in 1657. It seems that Robert (1633) died intestate, and I enclose herewith copy of the I. P. M., which gives full particulars. I was therefore mistaken when I wrote that Robert (1657) inherited Ellington from his father Gabriel—he inherited it direct from his grandfather. You will note that the Manor of Ellington originally belonged to the Abbey of Ramsey, and the last Abbot of Ramsey was John Lawrence, the uncle of Emma Lawrence, who married Gabriel Throckmorton, the father of Robert, who died 1633. C. W. T.]

ADAMS FAMILY.

(Compiled by William Newton Adams, Brooklyn, N. Y.)

From the old Maryland records at Annapolis, it appears that under date of 16th August, 1659, Zacharias Wade demanded land "for the transporting of Francis Adams, Mary Fox, Richard Nott & Edward Wade, anno 1658, as appears on record this year."

On October 2nd, 1661, 350 acres of land in Charles county, called "Troop's Rendezvous," on the east side of Fresh Avon river, were surveyed for Robert Troop; of which 185 acres were in the possession of Francis Adams.

In September, 1666, Francis Adams entered "his marke of hogs and cattle."

The following patents for land in Charles county were issued to him: 100 acres called "Batchelors Hope," patented 2d November, 1668; 100 acres called "Raly," patented 30th January, 1668-9; 145 acres called "Pinnar," patented 10th May, 1671.
